Celebration for Aadi Kirithigai

Aadi krithigai is an important festival celebrated in the Tamil month of Aadi. The festival is dedicated to Lord Muruga. The Krithigai star or Nakshatram is considered highly auspicious to worship Muruga and Aadi Krithigai is more important because Aadi is the first month in the Dakshinayana punyakalam - when the sun god changes his direction from north to south. The festival is celebrated in a grand way with poojas and kaavadi at all Murugan Temples around the world. On this auspicious day Lord Muruga will be adorned with the silver kreedam, flowers and silver hands and feet. Please come, celebrate and get the blessings of Lord Muruga.

We cordially invite you, your family & friends to come and celebrate Aadi Krithigai on Saturday, August 7th, 2010 at the temple followed by the cultural programs at Nath Auditorium, Hindu Temple, 10530 Troy Lane, Maple Grove, MN 55311
